

Journal

Each day as a “Do Now” students will write reflectively in their personal journals. There is no minimum or maximum length for these journal entries. These marble notebooks will contain their thoughts on a variety of topics.

Students may use the ideas expressed in their journals for various writing assignments. It is meant to be personal and shared only with the permission of the author.

This daily writing is in accordance with the ELA Standards of NYSED.